Comments: Wilderness Areas are meant to be wild, with a minimum of human infrastructure. Please adopt an alternative that lets the Mount Timpanogos Wilderness be wild by allowing the metal remnants of its Quonset hut to fade with time or by using wilderness-compatible means to remove it. This hut serves no useful purpose, and the remaining rock and cement could be safely dismantled and allowed to fade back into the Wilderness.

However, the claim that it can't be dismantled (or even repaired) using traditional means is false, as the Forest Service built the hut without motorized equipment. Whatever decision is reached, no helicopters or motorized equipment should be used to dismantle or refurbish the Quonset hut..
