Comments: No New Leasing. This is a large longleaf pine habitat and it should be left alone. It is home to the remaining population Gopher Tortoises in Alabama. Conservationists recently reintroduced the Endangered Eastern Indigo Snake and this drilling would threaten the successful work that has been done. This is a recreation area for humans. Who would want to do that with oil and gas drilling nearby. Humans and wildlife need fresh air and water to survive. Please do not open this area to oil and gas drilling.
