Comments: This project is not sustainable, necessary, or being requested by the community. Ski resorts are struggling throughout the West due to below average snowfall due to climate change. This project ignores this scientific fact for short term gains. Cedar Mountain and the area surrounding Cedar Breaks is already overrun by people and OHVs. The area and trails surrounding Brian Head are some of the only areas left for a quiet hike to recreate - I often hike up by Lowder Ponds to access this side of Brian Head but turn around when I run into people. Now you want to bring people further east and for what? This is an unnecessary and greedy land grab that locals do not support. Shut this expansion down, stop wasting taxpayer dollars on considering short-sighted nonsense, and tell BH to work smarter with what they already have.
