Comments: As someone who has recreated in this area, I am for expanding the trail system with connecting trails and adding bathrooms. That would make the area more hygienic and provide better access to several of the trailheads and destinations.

With that, I hate the idea of expanding the paid parking and shuttle service. This is a mountain, not an amusement park. I also hate the idea of spreading it over many trailheads. There are more remote destinations that these trailheads are the starting point for, and it is totally unfair to expect those who wish to go to the more remote areas to have to pay the obscene fees that are in place to hike Quandry.
