Comments: I travel to Colorado every year to hike and climb the various 14ers. The reservation and shuttle system for Quandary Peak has caused me to want to avoid this area. I do not think charging for reservations and shuttles is the right answer for this location or any others for that matter. I think that parking lot expansion would be a more feasible option moving forward. The great outdoors are meant to be accessible for anyone & this "pay for play" model is losing the essence of that.
