Comments: I fully oppose this plan. The outdoors/nature/forestry is meant to be able to be enjoyed by one and all, not meant to be a shakedown for money. It's already enough of a cost for the extremely high prices just to visit any of the national parks. These area's that did not require a cost to visit were a way to get out into the nature for its beauty and mental health healing. Wanting to end that by instituting more costs is extremely disappointing.
