Comments: Get rid of all the "free range" beef cattle before worrying about the horses.

Beef cattle were "introduced" to the forest by ranchers who are the people complaining about the equine population.

Since I can't afford the cost of beef anymore, and I am almost 79, I would much prefer to see the horses than "meat on the hoof" that is no longer in range of my retirement budget.

The Apache-Sitgreaves National Forest is larger than two million acres. Don't appease the beef cattle ranchers.

Appease we who are retired military and retired civilians who pay Federal taxes
