Comments: We need strong protections of our old growth forests which are so important in these times of climate change. Do not roll back or weaken current protections. We need to protect the water supply, the east-west wildlife corridor, and plant diversity. Our forests are so much more than cash cows for lumber companies. They are important for recreation, fishing, wildlife, birds, and solitude. All these activities are economically important to the region. Please protect these precious resources for us and the generations to come.
