Comments: We need to protect our undeveloped land in Oregon. Using language that is aspirational will not work to protect anything. The language must be specific and clear, as in what "must" happen and what "cannot" happen instead of suggesting by using "should."

Oregon is a unique state with beautiful landscapes. Do NOT allow these to be destroyed in order for a small group of people to profit by destroying the beauty that millions of people come here to enjoy. We need to stand up and protect the beauty and natural resources this state, and country, have to offer. This is what makes America great!
