Comments: Leave the forest open. So tired of trying to access public land and in so many forests it is closed, always closed. So tired of supposed experts pretty much always thinking the best way to manage land is to keep people from accessing it. Not everyone is in hiking condition. Tired of road closures and constantly locking up more public land. Public land means it should be used by the public not under lock and key by some government agency. Also tired of the endless double talk and evasive attitude of the agency when it comes to addressing the issues at hand.
