Comments: It is imperative that the plan holds definitive and binding language to guarantee that old growth and mature trees will be protected under this plan.

It must clarify that environmental protection will stand for delicate ecosystems. It must spell out appropriate levels of environmental analysis be performed prior to any type of logging, road building, mining extraction, or similarly destructive activities. Such invasive activity that may disrupt the natural ecosystem of the forest should not be left open to loose interpretation that could risk political influence in choices that are geared towards profiteering and money grabbing over maintaining a balanced system that is here for kids and grandkids.
