Comments: I object to the Pikes Peak Vegetation Management and Restoration Project #66359 and urge that it be substantially revised. There is no "emergency" that justifies pushing this project through without proper legal review and process. The focus of this project is on extracting timber resources and it does not account for preserving roadless areas and protecting endangered species and other natural resources. Our public lands are exactly that -- public -- and they have great value in protecting biodiversity and the long term health and well-being of our human ecosystems. Proponents of this project are using wildfire risk as a pretense for clearcutting. Please use scientific methods to address forest management and reject and nullify this proposed project.
