Comments: Please drop the proposed Forest Plan amendment for the White Mountain National Forest while considering how to address wilderness trail management. Amending the Forest Plan to allow new trails and trail relocation throughout Wilderness could weaken protections for currently trail-less areas, which help protect plants and wildlife, keep Wilderness from being overrun by humans, and offer a truly primitive experience for those who venture into these areas. First analyze and create a trail monitoring report and then consider trail management options. Doing so should include site-specific analysis, transparency, and a more informed commenting process.

Please conduct site-specific NEPA analysis for all proposed new trails and trail relocations outside of established trail corridors in Wilderness, as done for the Webster Cliff Trail. Trail relocation in Wilderness outside of designated trail corridors is an exception to the WMNF's Wilderness Plan, and considering trail relocation on an individual basis allows for better analysis of impacts to Wilderness. Please make every effort to relocate trails in Wilderness within established trail corridors.

All new trail and trail relocation work in Wilderness should be completed using traditional skills and tools, rather than motorized and mechanized equipment.
