Comments: Greetings,

As a public engagement professional, I have several concerns with the incredibly limited involvement local communities have had to comment or engage in this wide sweeping, hastily developed plan. Understanding that local communities need sustainable timber is only a very small piece of what else these local communities holistically need. The biodiversity, water quality, and overall health of the Cascades can be irreparably harmed by such hurried and unselective attempt at economic gain for the few while harming the region, its people, and our shared resources.

Thank you for considering this comment.

Best,

David B. Clark
