Comments: This project should never have been considered. As someone who visits Craven Canyon as a tourist who enjoys the rich history of the lands, ecosystems, and Indigenous culture, and as someone who knows many people residing in South Dakota, I strongly oppose October Jinx project.

There is no reason to desecrate sacred sites to the Lakota or put our ecosystems, waterways, and people living in proximity in harms way. Reject this project and do your job -- which in case you forgot -- is to restore, revitalize, and protect lands not destroy and extract from them for personal gain.
