Comments: I'm glad that the Green Mountain National Forest is interested in protecting and restoring rare natural communities, but I have a lot of unanswered questions about this large-scale, intensive project. This is a precious area and there needs to be slow and thorough deliberation before action is taken. I don't agree with the use of "categorical exclusions to rush the review of this project.

Please listen to the public's concerns and take the time needed for good decision making about our sacred natural resources.
