Comments: As a tax paying, lifelong citizen of the United states of America I am in opposition to ANY changes in the roadless rules that have protected the Tongass national forest! It is incredibly irresponsible for the current administration to even consider development , and exploitation of a national treasure. The Tongass national forest belongs to the American public, present and future, not to greedy industrial corporations . It is imperative that the Tongass be preserved for the health and well being of our nation and the world.

I strongly oppose any development and exploitation in the Tongass national forest! future generations will remember those who stood to defend the Tongass for all Americans, and those who tried to destroy it for short term financial gain to a few interests.

The Tongass national forest is worth much more to the economic security of the country if it is allowed to remain untouched. Such places are increasingly rare and valuable to the survival and well being of our great Nation!
