Comments: We just keep digging in further and further.in a time when,so much is at stake,stressing enviroments.stressing the wildlife,stressing the agriculture. I have to wonder,the necessity ,to please people,at what cost,and to who it will cost,the expected group of people this will reach?all though touted for all,more then likely ,used by fewer,and most certainly mainly inhabitant s of the area! At the cost of more.
I am totally against as there are enough ski areas,trails,and stress factors on all of the environmental, biological concerns you can think of. Take a step back,breathe and ask yourself is this really needed. Please slow the process we are all in this together.
