

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/3/2026 4:27:00 PM

First name: mike

Last name: bethers

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The tongass has been badly scared by excesssive logging decades ago and the habitat impacts are still present. Resuming logging of old growth and road building in the tongass is absolutely the worst idea I have of heard in years. Habitat values remaining in the tongass are worth much more to the state and nation than the timber. Ther should be no new roads built and no old growth cut in the future. Any timber harvest should occur only on second growth stands and from existing roads. My family has been using the tongass for about 60 years to provide our annual fish and venison needs, and being an outdoors family when we are out, we are in the tongass. Don't allow any further logging or roads. thanks