Comments: DO not obliterate ANY roads, trails, paths, or other travel corridors, which allow man and beast to travel on the level vs. on a slope. NO OBLITERATION and if the process damages roads, trails, paths, or other travel corridors THEY must be Restored to as good as or BETTER than condition. Mark them so you DO NOT forget.

Why do elk rest on logging roads, because they dislike side-hilling as much as people do. AND do NOT make me pay twice for a logging road. One time to create and a second time, after obliteration, to fight a forest fire. Logging Roads hurt nothing and greatly increase the pleasure of walking in the forest. NO OBLITERATION, NONE!!!
