Comments: Our National Forests are an important environmental resource in their natural state as an ecosystem. Opening up these spaces to mining places private corporate interest over the shared public good and degrades these important resources for future generations. Please do not open up this National Forest space to mining, and keep the forest preserved for the greater public good and for our future. Extraction and destruction for corporate gain is not the legacy we want to leave. Our children will know what we did. Make the choice that they will look fondly upon, and preserve our National Forests.
