Comments: This proposed revision would bring an economic disaster for the communities in Southeast Alaska. Does the republican administration really want that? We have finally stabilized the economy after relying on old-growth logging, mining, and unsustainable fisheries - by transitioning to tourism, government-sectors, a diverse economy, and sustainable forest and fisheries practices.

These sectors should be enhanced not destroyed by the Forest Service. The proposed new "commercial" areas is simply a land-grab from the residents and communities that rely on these areas for their subsistence and livelihoods, and an attempt by the republican administration to enrich international mining, logging, and industrial tourism companies and corporations. It is not warranted, wanted, or desirable.

As a small business that relies on healthy forests, streams and waterways, abundant wildlife, and a thriving ecosystem, I am appalled that this republican administration is attempting to take all of these assets away and replace it with the old days of cronyism, environmental destruction, non-regulation, and limited oversight. Read the "Tragedy of the Commons".

We have worked hard for decades to get where SE Alaska and the Tongass is productive, useful, and economically and ecologically viable. As a resident and business owner here, I ask you to stop this process and make no changes to the Tongass Forest Plan.
