Comments: I feel like it's a bad idea for the logging project. The landscape is beautiful and we need those trees. I feel like the less trees we have the less cool air or shade we would have for people and even wild animals. I feel like if they started logging the landscape would be completely changed i feel like the wild animals that have made that place home and lived there for a long time would slowly leave and find other areas but could also be fatal for some wild animals that use the trees for protection.
