Comments: To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my support for the Bear Palmer #68985 USDA Logging Project. I believe this project represents an important step toward responsible forest management, wildfire risk reduction, and the long-term health and sustainability of our public lands.

Properly managed logging and forest restoration projects can play a critical role in reducing hazardous fuel loads, improving forest resilience, and helping protect surrounding communities, wildlife habitat, infrastructure, and recreational areas from catastrophic wildfire. Projects such as Bear Palmer #68985 can also contribute to healthier forest conditions by addressing overcrowding, disease, insect infestations, and dead or declining timber.

In addition to the environmental benefits, I support the economic and community advantages this project may provide. Responsible forestry projects help sustain local jobs, support rural economies, and contribute to the continued availability of forest products while maintaining stewardship of public lands for future generations.

I encourage the USDA Forest Service to continue moving forward with the Bear Palmer #68985 project while maintaining careful environmental oversight, responsible planning, and collaboration with local stakeholders. Thoughtful forest management is essential to balancing conservation, recreation, wildfire prevention, and economic sustainability.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments in support of this project and for your continued work managing and protecting our national forests.

Sincerely,

Cheyenne Adler
