Comments: To whom it may concern,

I object to the Burnt Rock gold mining exploration project in the Humboldt-Toiyabe forest. More environmental studies have to be performed, the impact on the local wildlife and ecosystem, the enormous water usage and the long term consequences on the land and other users need to be better addressed. To let a foreign firm cause so much destruction for their own monetary benefits and no positive impact for the local economy and cause irreversible damage and deplete the local aquifers is unacceptable.
