Comments: You're not fooling anyone! This project is not about Forest Restoration, or Wildlife Habitat. It is simply logging, hiding behind nice-sounding words. Much of this project is on naturally regenerated, second-growth forests that are well on their way to becoming old growth, if we just leave them alone. This type of forest, which has never seen a chainsaw, does not need human "help" in any way. It does not need to be "restored" by cutting down trees, and it is already good wildlife habitat. Your logging activities will certainly scare away the wildlife and destroy much good habitat. Your claim of "no significant impact" is absurd.

I wish you had the courage to simply admit that timber money is more important to you than anything else and you don't care if you have to destroy the environment to get it. Future generations will judge you very harshly!
