

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 6/18/2026 4:50:06 PM

First name: Candace

Last name: Hyde

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The spraying of herbicides in Cottonwood Canyon is poorly thought out, ecologically damaging and unnecessary. I grew up in that canyon. Herbicides pose longterm health problems to people, animals, and productive plant life. That area is a watershed. Who could have come up with such an ill conceived plan? Many areas are restored without toxic chemicals. Please come up with a plan illustrating the integrity of the forest service, not its failure.