Comments: This is one of the worst ideas I have heard next to a data center. We are in extreme drought and don't have the water resources if these burns get out of control. I was working at the North Rim of the Grand Canyon when a control burn got out of control and almost killed us. Recent local control burns get out of control often. This is also going to add to the particulate count in the air which is already high due to industrial pollution and commuter traffic. This just is not a bad idea, it's a disaster in the making. But that is what you MAGAt pedofascists are all about, chaos and stupidity. You all should be jailed just for thinking of such a stupid course of action.
