Comments: I am against the proposed prescribed fires in Big Cottonwood Canyon. Less trees does not equal less forest fires. In fact, it can make the fires worse and more intense. Natural, more dense forests are able to handle wildfires better than if the wind is able whip through limited trees and brush. Additionally, the materials used in prescribed burns are even more toxic to humans than the smoke from a natural wildfire. This has been proven many times over. Please do not continue with the proposal.
