Comments: Ms. Vogt,

I am sending this directly to you because I could not find a place on the website for public comments.

I fear you all will do what you want to do - but I still feel compelled to voice my concern about the plans to drill for oil and gas on OUR public lands. The use of oil and gas is increasing climate change. We must turn to solar and wind power - like the Chinese are doing - and stop bending over to powerful and wealthy oil and gas companies.

Those in our government who continue to do the bidding of oil and gas companies will literally be cursed by their children and grandchildren.

Please do what you can to protect our wild places and wildlife and do not cave in to the oil and gas companies.

Rosalind Andrews
