Comments: I would like to state my objection to the CRMP succinctly by referencing and restating all points raised by the Flathead Rivers Alliance in their Objection dated July 13, 2026. Additionally, I will state my belief that the CRMP's vision of a path for expanded recreational use on the already overburdened 3 forks of the Flathead is a grave mistake that history will (once again) prove to be regrettably short sighted. Now is our opportunity to protect these incredible wild resources with reasonable, manageable regulation, and in doing so protect the standard of living of all in NW Montana, and the Nation as a whole. The pressure from an exploding population will not decrease for generations, if it does at all. Once the pristine character is gone, it is gone for good. I am old enough to remember a time when government regulation of use of wild places was absolutely unnecessary, and I would have been the first to fight it. But, those times are long behind us.
