Comments: I support updating the Nye Mine Impact Plan to recognize the real impacts the Stillwater Mine has on Park City Schools. The current plan relies on outdated assumptions from 1998 that no longer reflect today's property values, inflation, mine workforce, or community needs. The Environmental Impact Statement should use current data, evaluate the cumulative impacts of decades of mine growth on our school district, and acknowledge that Park City has experience significant impacts without receiving an equitable share of mitigation funding. The Final EIS should recommend amending the Nye Mine Impact Plan to designate Park City School District #5 as an affected local government eligible for tax-sharing and other mitigation funds. This would help support our students, maintain school facilities, strengthen bonding capacity, and reduce the financial burden on local taxpayers.
