Comments: This is great to hear you will be salvaging the dead and dying timber. I live in Western Montana and where we have had fire activity with no salvage our forests are a mess. We have dangerous snag's everywhere. The areas that have been salvaged are on the road to recovery with planted and natural regeneration. The salvage timber was able to upgrade culverts, fix the existing roads, pay for the planting. The jobs created from the salvage that also put money into our small rural communities. Please continue on with this project and manage as many burned acres as feasible. Thank you!
