Comments: The Black Hills National Forest matters to me. My husband and I visited Devil's Tower in 2021. Like thousands before us we were awed by it's magnificence. The entire area is awe-inspiring. If there is even the possibility of radio-activity near the mine, the area will lose millions in tourism dollars. The project should be subject to all comments from anyone wishing to make one before being forced on the citizens of the United States. It belongs to us. Not to a mining company.

I am asking the agency to publish a draft EIS for comment before any decision. Removing the administrative review that every comparable mine receives is itself a decision the EIS should justify on the record.
