Comments: Re: 14th and Catlin, Missoula, Mt.

The Forest Service needs to put some parameters in selling off "under utilized" land. Often these small acreages are a vital buffer of open space and when selling them off (even though they were bought with tax payer money) , restrictions should be put on what the land can be used for. NOT MORE DEVELOPMENT! The Forest service owes the community a well imagined transference of OUR lands into private hands. Recreation, trail system, open space, parks. Selling off open spaces to the highest bidding developer is happening all over Montana. The Forest Service knows better and should do better.
