Comments: I'm writing to express my deepest concerns about the open pit mine project in the forest near Mato Tipila in Bull Hill, WY by Rare Element Resources Inc. It is an established fact that open mines produce heavy pollution that affect large ecosystems with repercussions that will be felt across the land for generations.

Moreover, this is a sacred site that is a heritage for all Americans and generations to come. I call on the US Forest Service to oppose this project and uphold its motto "Caring for the Land and Serving People", as we should all strive to restore our environment from the damage already done.

Thank you!
