Comments: The Forest Service is revising Forest Plans for the Malheur, Umatilla, and Wallowa-Whitman National Forests in the Blue Mountains, encompassing approximately five million acres in eastern Oregon and southeastern Washington.

*I want strong protections for forests- and opposes rolling back or weakening existing protections, as is currently proposed.

*I want strong, enforceable, and mandatory standards that protect wildlife, clean water, carbon, and ecosystem integrity in the Blue Mountains Forest Plan Revision.

*We need strong standards to protect forests, not more logging, roading, and livestock grazing.
