There is already an major increase in distraction in the area. The Sheep left because of it and now you want to over manages an already over managed situation. Stop the development. Get off the sofa and walk the trails and leave the noise behind. You want to monitor use your legs. Jonathan Senn does not expect you to listen to reason any reason.

I'll believe corporations are people when one comes home from Afghanistan in a body bag.

"We can't solve problems by using the same kind of thinking we used when we created them." - Albert Einstein

The care of human life and happiness, and not their destruction, is the first and only legitimate object of good government. - Thomas Jefferson
