Comments: United States Forest Service: Northern Minnesota Federal Withdrawal #50938

To Matt Judd,

I am responding to a voicemail left on my phone today by Luke.

Attached is the brief email that I attempted to send last night, on 2/28/18, between 11:30 and 12:00 p.m. As I explained in the voice message that I left shortly after midnight at your Duluth office, I was unable to send my comment because the USFS site kept saying that I had entered an incorrect captcha. When I had clicked on the area "I am not a robot" all I saw was a pulsating blue circle and then the message that my entry was incorrect. Obviously there was something wrong with the connection between my laptop and your site, or lack thereof. I then tried to connect to the U.S. Forest Service site in Washington, attempting to leave my comment there, thinking it was better than not getting it in before the deadline, but when I tried to submit my comment the same thing happened.

As I said in my subsequent voice message last night, I would appreciate my comment being submitted on February 28, 2018. If necessary, I can show you the history on my laptop, which shows that I attempted to submit it on that date.

Respectfully,

Carla Arneson
