Comments: I have attached our comments on this project. It should not qualify for a CE due to the presence of three threatened species, lynx, grizzly, and whitebark pine.

Also, John Squires documented a lynx migration path through the area in 2005 (paper attached). This past summer we had a mom and three grizzly cubs here on the East Rim. In addition, we have documented Great gray owls reproducing in the area with multiple sightings over the past few years.

It is our hope you will reconsider this CE and produce the analysis we need.
